

I oppose any change that allows further concentration of the public broadcast industry. Reduction of the number of broadcasters is not in the public interest. Media concentration may permit editorial policies to limit diversity of expression and enable a few large advertisers to more easily influence which views are considered acceptable for public dissemination. I urge you to consider the possible consequences of the proposed changes and reject them.

Thank you,
Jeffrey A. Taylor